Bios Fall 2018:

David Dillon, FSA, MAAA, is senior vice president and principal at Lewis & Ellis Inc and is a member of the Society of Actuaries' Board of Directors.

Since the passage of the Affordable Care Act, Dave has assisted 15 states with health care reform issues. He currently serves 10 states as their rate reviewer and/or a healthcare reform adviser.

Dave is very involved in the affairs of his profession and the health insurance industry through his volunteer efforts. From 2015 to 2016, Dave served on the Society of Actuaries' Health Section Council where he was Chair of the Council's Strategic Initiatives committee. Since the beginning of 2017, Dave has led the SOA's Strategic Initiative Commercial Healthcare: What's Next?. In 2017, Dave was a recipient of the Society of Actuaries' Outstanding Volunteer Award. Additionally, he was awarded Outstanding Session Awards for both the 2017 SOA Health and Annual Meetings.

Dave is also the Chair and Host for the SOA's Health Section Podcast series.

Josh Hammerquist, FSA, MAAA, is a vice president and consulting actuary at Lewis & Ellis Inc. Since joining Lewis & Ellis in 2009 has been involved in all areas of health insurance including pricing, reserving, experience analysis, and regulatory filing. Recently, Josh has focused on pricing and filing supplemental benefits and reviewing rate filings for state insurance departments and CMS.

Josh is chair of the SOA Health Section's Regulatory Resources Committee.

Jorge Noronha is a Director in the PwC's Actuarial Services practice in Atlanta. He provides a range of actuarial and risk management services to PwC's life insurance clients. Jorge has extensive experience in various areas of the firm's insurance practice focusing on Actuarial modernization, M&A due-diligence, model validation and audit support. Jorge's international experience is extensive with over twenty years of combined experience in consulting and industry having worked across different regulatory regimes in Canada, US, South America, Europe, Asia and South Africa. Prior to joining PwC, Jorge held roles as CRO and chief actuary for a large multinational in multiple countries.

Jorge received a Bachelor of Mathematics degree in Actuarial Science and Minor in Statistics from the University of Waterloo in Canada. Jorge is a Chartered Enterprise Risk Analyst (CERA), Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA), Fellow of the Society of Actuaries (FSA), and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries (MAAA).

Martin Snow

- VP & Chief Delivery Officer & Member Advisory Board at Atidot
- Previously held executive roles at TIAA, Prudential & MetLife including Appointed Actuary at TIAA, Lead Pricing & Reinsurance Solutions Actuary at Prudential and Dividend Actuary at MetLife
- Led the development of the first in the industry ULSG priced on a PBR basis

- Active in SOA & AAA on Predictive Analytics including member of task force that developed the AAA monograph on Predictive Analytics

Ben Blakeslee is an Assistant Actuary on the Individual Life Pricing team at Munich Re. Prior to that he worked at John Hancock doing process improvements, asset modeling, and financial reporting. Ben is a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries, member of the American Academy of Actuaries, and holds a Bachelor of Science from Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Chuck Meintel, VP Group Protection Pricing for LFG. I have been at Lincoln for about a year, before that I spend 26 years at Unum. Most recently was the CFO of the IDI line and before that was the Chief Actuary for the Unum UK subsidiary in Dorking England. I also spend 8 years at Gen Re (formerly JHA). My career has been split about 65% group and 35% individual products. I currently live in Marietta, Georgia.

Mark Cawood is a senior lecturer in the School of Mathematical and Statistical Sciences at Clemson University. He served as Undergraduate Coordinator from 2008 to 2015, and he now advises math sciences majors who are in the Actuarial Science/Financial Math Emphasis Area.

Alex Yang is an actuary working in the inforce management area of Munich Re US Life, creating solutions to improve profitability and optimize risk on existing reinsurance portfolios. Additionally, he is responsible for investigating reinsurance solutions to help clients better position themselves under Principle Based Reserving (PBR). Before joining Munich Re, Alex has taken on a number of positions including actuarial consulting, capital markets, reinsurance modeling, pension solution, and insurance valuation.

John Fenton is a Senior Director at Willis Towers Watson, located in the firm's Atlanta office. Mr. Fenton joined the firm in 1985. He has broad based experience in the U.S. life insurance market including product, distribution, and financial issues. Recently he has been focusing on projects related to life insurance and annuity mortality, including accelerated underwriting trends, longevity trends, predictive analytics, the pension risk transfer market, and litigation issues.

He is a frequent speaker at industry conferences, including the Society of Actuaries and the Southeastern Actuaries Conference. He is past chairperson of the SOA Product Development Section Council.

John has written several articles; the most recent one was New Mortality Data Show Declining Longevity Improvements – How Should Life Insurers Prepare? (Wills Towers Watson Insights, June 2016).

Douglas G. Cave Ph.D, MPH, President & Founder
Doug Cave is the founder of CCGroup. Doug has served as CEO, President and COO of several healthcare companies. He has over 30 years of experience in the HMO, health insurance, pharmacy and physician-hospital organization industries, as well as over 20 years' experience in consulting to these industries. He has also been involved in the large employer, employer coalition, TPA, utilization management, and disease management markets, and has published over 100 articles in academic and trade journals and performed numerous speaking engagements at healthcare and trade association meetings. Doug holds a Ph.D in Health Policy and Planning, as well as a Masters' of Public Health in Infectious Disease Epidemiology.

Liz Myers, FSA, MAAA
Liz joined the Atlanta office of Wakely in 2017 and has 20 years of healthcare consulting experience. Liz manages Wakely's proprietary Medicare Repricing Tool that compares commercial and Medicare Advantage reimbursement to Medicare fee-for-service rates. Prior to joining Wakely, she worked on a variety of employer and provider analyses with a primary focus on network discounts and payor reimbursement evaluations.

Bob Moné, FSA, MAAA
Bob joined Wakely, and started the Atlanta office, in 2016 and has over 20 years of experience as a healthcare actuary. Bob has a deep expertise in both the commercial and Medicare markets. His experience lies in pricing and rate development, preparing regulatory rate filings, product design, developing provider reimbursement and risk sharing arrangements, analyzing the feasibility of participating in the Medicare Advantage program, trend analyses, and forecasting.

Donna McDonald is a Milliman executive-level healthcare consultant with over 30 years of industry experience. Donna is a former Excellus Blue Cross and Blue Shield Medicare division vice president and specializes in assisting clients with Medicare product start-up and existing Medicare product success, operational effectiveness, and compliance.

Greg Sgrosso is a consulting actuary with the Atlanta office of Milliman with over 16 years of experience. Greg has a lot of experience with Medicare Advantage bids, claims reserves analysis, rate filings, and other aspects of risk management.

Dagny Grillis joined Wakely Consulting Group in March 2017 as an Associate Actuary and lives in Tampa, FL. She works on Medicare bids as well as the Wakely National Risk Adjustment Reporting (WNRAR) team.

Robert Lang is a consultant with Wakely Consulting Group. He joined the company in April 2012 and specializes in Medicare bids as well as commercial rate development and filings.

Audrey Chervansky joins us from Swiss Re Life & Health's US Hub located in Armonk, NY. Audrey currently serves as a Vice President & Marketing Actuary. In this role, Audrey works on developing reinsurance solutions, providing product development support and R&D consulting for her Individual Life clients. Audrey holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics from Binghamton University. She is a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries and a Member of the Academy of Actuaries.

In her time outside of the office, Audrey enjoys exploring the world with her husband and teenage daughter. Their most recent journey was to the South Pacific this past summer, where they spent two fabulous weeks on the islands of Fiji.